Finance Committee Rejects Collaborative School Proposal

By Julie M. Barry

The Finance Committee voted against endorsing the article for the Lawrence-Andover Collaborative School project at the upcoming special town meeting June 20.

But according to FinCom Chairman Joanne Marden, the move does not mean a financial package couldn't be put together at another time.

"The collaborative school, as it is currently structured and organized, poses too many financial risks to the town of Andover," Marden said. "The project hasn't been developed far enough for us to approve it."

There are three major areas of concern, Marden said.

- The wording of the agreement does not clearly define Andover's financial commitment, Marden said. She said various FinCom members expressed concern about the wording of the agreement at their meeting May 26.

- There are still questions regarding the capital, building costs and the bonding arrangement for Andover. Marden says FinCom wants to know specifically how much Andover will have to spend and what the bonding arrangement will be.

- Lastly, Marden says not enough work has been done on the operating budget and the state funding available for the school. "No one knows how much Andover will have to pay," she said. Using a worst-case scenario, Andover could not afford it, Marden said.

"We're not saying in the long run these things can't be answered to our satisfaction; but right now it would be like signing a blank check," Marden said.

School Committee Chairman Donald Robb said he told FinCom that the School Committee hasn't looked at the financial situation yet. "There were rough estimates that Dennis (Richards, Collaborative School project director) had put together but we (the School Committee) haven't discussed them in detail," Robb said.

To date, the committee has spent time on the working agreement with the Lawrence School Committee and the survey, which is being sent to parents of children 11 years old and

Annual Dinner For Chamber

The 27th annual dinner of the Andover Chamber of Commerce will be held Tuesday, June 14, at the Andover Marriott Hotel, according to Andrew Caffrey, Jr., president of the chamber.

Caffrey, an attorney in Andover, said the dinner marks the completion of 27 years of service to the business community of Andover. "Each year the Andover chamber, which is a part of the Greater Lawrence Chamber of Commerce, gathers to celebrate its efforts in promoting a healthy and competitive business climate here in Andover," he said. "The Andover Chamber is proud of its service to both the businesses of this town and to the entire community as well."

Caffrey said that Mary Doherty of Doherty Real Estate and Bill Skoglund, manager of the Andover Marriott Hotel, co-chaired the committee that made the arrangement. "There will be entertainment throughout the night," he explained. "Our social hour begins at 6 p.m. and dinner will be served at 7 p.m."

A major feature of the evening will be the presentation of the Andover Chamber's Community Service Award, recognizing the contribution of an Andover resident for continued service to the people of the town. Caffrey said, "The recipient has already been selected but we keep the name a secret until the night of the dinner. We like to present the winner with the pleasant surprise of being recognized for their achievements that evening."

Caffrey will complete his term of office and officially turn the gavel over to his successor who will be elected June 2.

For more information, call the Chamber of Commerce.

Flags Are Stolen From Graves

Close to 60 American flags were replaced on graves in St. Augustine's cemetery Tuesday morning by John Lewis, director of veterans services.

The flags were stolen sometime late Sunday, along with some flags and poles on Ballardvale and South Main street areas. Also stolen was the flag in front of the old town hall on Main street.

Lewis has requested that if any person finds a flag missing from a grave in either St. Augustine's or any other cemetery, to please notify him so that another may be placed.

The Department of Community Services program listing will be mailed to Andover homes this week. For those not receiving one, extra copies will be available at the DCS office, in the town offices on Bartlet Street.

KAMP Slots Still Open

Registration continues for KAMPS Shee-Hee, Shaw-Wee and Ha-Kow-Wee programs. Spaces are still available; forms and information are available at the Department of Community Services in the Town Offices on Bartlet Street. Office hours are 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Holiday Plans Are Underway

It's not too soon to start thinking about decorating your dog, cat, bicycle or neighborhood friends for Andover's traditional Horribles Parade on the Fourth of July.

Andover's Committee for Patriotic Observances will again sponsor Fourth of July festivities of which the centerpiece is the annual Horribles Parade. A Horribles Parade, for the uninitiated, is a participants' parade. Children of all ages have in the past decorated bicycles, siblings, pets and grandparents. Neighborhoods often band together, sometimes producing a float or a satirical theme. One neighborhood has become well known for its BSO (Bartlet Street Onsemble), a really wild and crazy kazoo band. Prizes will be awarded for best pet, best bicycle, best tricycle, most satirical, best neighborhood group, etc.

The celebration will also feature an all-town breakfast, jazz by the New Liberty Jazz Band and traditional patriotic music by the popular Middlesex Concert Band.

The schedule: parade forms at 9 a.m., steps off promptly at 9:30; breakfast starts at 8 a.m.; music, entertainment and games for the kids throughout the morning in Central Park. For more information, contact Robert or Martha Schmidt.

FUR CARE TIPS

from the fur experts of

Weiner's

1. Keep your fur out of excessive sunlight.
2. Do not spray with a fragrance or perfume.
3. Storing in a cedar closet will dry fur.
4. Do not store furs in mothballs . . . they damage the leather.
5. Beware of friction and rubbing which breaks the guardhair and wears the fur.
6. Never try spot cleaning your fur. Take it to a qualified fur care expert for cleaning.
7. When at home, hang your fur in a cool, dark closet away from other clothes.
8. Shake your fur once every 10 days and rotate it in the closet to guard against insects that lay eggs in furs.
9. Store your furs during the hot, dry summer months to prevent the leather from drying, causing cracking and splitting of pelts.
10. Glaze your furs every year to keep them lustrous. Clean them every other year to remove soil, pollution or insect larvae.

Ken Wojnar, a New England Telephone technician in the Andover central office, tests telephone lines as part of the work needed to introduce the new 508 area code in Andover July 16. The new area code is needed because eastern Massachusetts is growing so fast that New England Telephone is running out of telephone numbers in the region. The additional area code will virtually double the supply of numbers available. The new area code will have no effect on toll rates. Calls that are not currently toll calls will not become toll calls.

Training Clinics Offered

Windrush Farm of Boxford has a limited number of spaces available in its summer horseback riding clinics for able bodied riders interested in combined training and dressage.

Each clinic is Monday through Thursday from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. The instructors will be Marjorie V. Kittredge, national "R" judge of dressage, combined training and driving, Amanda Carey-Hogan, certified instructor specializing in combined training and dressage, and Thistle Brecher, dressage specialist.

Two 1½ hour riding sessions each day will consist of riding on the flat and work over fences. The jumping will be a combination of gymnastic, stadium and cross country. There will be lunchtime discussions on horsemastership theory and application and hands-on horse care and stable management.

Four sessions are offered: July 5-8, 11-14, 18-21 and 25-28. Participants may join one or more sessions.

Each clinic is carefully designed to maximize the individual's potential. Riders may bring their own horse for schooling or lease one of Windrush Farm's horses.

There will be opportunities to learn about and participate in the riding for the disabled afternoon program every day after the clinic. Volunteers are needed.

For more information and an application, call or write Windrush Farm, Brookview Road, Boxford, MA 01921.

Youth Director Addresses Teen Center Committee

By Kathy Drietz

The teen center organizational committee held its second of three spring meetings Thursday, May 26. We were pleased to see some new people there, including Selectman Jerry Silverman.

For those who missed last week's article, a number of townspeople have been working to start a teen center, hopefully in the renovated Town Hall, sometime early next year.

We spent some time brainstorming further ideas for organization, funding, programs, etc., but Rick Gorman's presentation was the highlight of the evening. Gorman, director of North Andover's new youth services program, has started more than ten groups and programs in the space of five months, serving about 700 youths. He started from virtually nothing and now offers an impressive array of services for 12-18 year olds, including some with documented problems (substance abuse, youthful offenders, etc.), some considered to be at risk for problems, as well as hundreds of teens with a need for somewhere to go and something to do. His enthusiasm and optimism were contagious and the meeting ended with the feeling that Andover can do it too.

However, the center cannot happen without a lot of town support and commitment. We organized ourselves into several committees: Gina Riddiford, Tina Girdwood, Gerry Silverman and Charles Wesson, site; David Riddiford, Ginny Franz and Pam Carleton, organization/funding; Diana Gould, Lisa Famiglietti, Joan Johnson and Diane Letch, program/purpose; Mary Kay Mann and Debbie McCarthy, liaison to students. We're looking for lots of help. Contact one of the above people or come to the next meeting, Thursday, June 9, at 7:30 p.m. in the second floor conference room of Town Offices, Bartlet Street entrance.

To Attend Science Program

The Acadia Institute of Oceanography at Seal Harbor Maine announces that Erin Elizabeth Kearn of 412 High Plain Road, Andover, will attend the 1988 summer session in marine studies.

Kearn will be in ninth grade at Andover High School next year and has been recommended by James Whyte, Jr. of the science department.

The AIO program is a full field-study of tidal pools, estuaries, salt marshes, and beaches and off-shore sampling. All phases of oceanography are explored. Laboratory facilities provide space and instrumentation for special marine projects. It is hoped that the young men and women attending will enter careers in marine biology, fisheries' management, marine advisory and related fields that are responsive to ocean resources.

WCVB-TV Editorial Director Marjorie Arons-Barron, moderator for panel discussion, "Implementing Universal Health Care in Massachusetts," Wednesday, June 8, in Gildea Hall, Merrimack College, Route 114, North Andover, at 7:30 p.m. Sponsored by Northeast Health Planning Council, proceeds will benefit council programs.

Celebration

Lowell National Historical Park and the Lowell Historic Preservation Commission will celebrate their 10th anniversary on Saturday, June 18, at Market Mills. Beginning at 12 noon, Mike Hashem's Dixieland Strollers' music will fill the Market Mills courtyard while Alexander the King of Jesters performs tricks and juggling acts on his unicycle. A birthday ceremony at 1 p.m. will be followed by the dedication of trolley #4131 at the trolley platform opposite the Mack Building.

BABY TALK

by Jack Resnick

Well-behaved children mean happy children and happy parents. Life is easier if there are few problems. The personality of each child is formulated in the very early years with the guidance of his or her parents. The basic behaviors have to be established way before the influence of peers becomes all-important. If we teach our children genuine grown-up responsible behavior then they will probably have positive feelings of self-worth that were nurtured with praise from early years.

There is a complete assortment of baby needs available at TINY TOTLAND. We feature famous makers including Simmons, Childcraft and Bassett. Over 80 cribs are on display. Ask about our lay-a-way plan, no extra charge. We feature wall decorations and many accessories. Babies toys...everything from "heaven to seven". Open 9-5:30. Mon. & Th. 9-9. New Director Plans Future Historical Society Projects

By Melissa M. De Meo

Charlotte Smith says she's one of those people who, given the choice between going back in time or forward, would go back. The new director of the Andover Historical Society is right in her element.

The Amos Blanchard House, home to the historical society at 97 Main St., is frozen in the 1830s, when Blanchard, a prominent banker, lived and worked in Andover. His benevolent eyes stare out of a portrait on an easel in the society's library.

He watched many of last year's 3,000 visitors to the society use the library to look up family records or find out what the town was like in the 19th century. Smith welcomes the company.

"We continue to expand the number of people who are visiting the historical society," she said. "It's sort of a community-oriented, people-oriented institution."

One of the first things Smith did after starting her new job March 14 was move her office closer to the entrance of the society. "I wanted it to be here near all the activity so I could feel the pulse of the place," she said.

Smith was enrolled in the Winterthur graduate program in early American civilization, co-sponsored by the Winterthur Museum and the University of Maryland, when she found out about the opening in Andover. She had already met the then director of the historical society, Clark Pearce. "It (the job) sounded like a really good mixture of things," Smith said. "I wanted to work with administrative and curatorial departments. It sounded like a very active and interesting historical society."

When Pearce left in September to become a private collector's curator, Smith applied for the vacancy and spent an afternoon of interviews with the society's staff and search committee.

Born and raised in Pittsburgh, Penn., Smith lived in London and Tokyo as a youngster because her father's job as a banker led the family abroad. "I think it (her travels) will help me to deal with a wide range of people, types of people, ages of people," Smith said. "It's given me a broad interest—such as looking at the impact of various ethnic groups in the area in the 19th and 20th centuries."

Smith graduated from Williams College in western Massachusetts with a degree in history. "I expected that I might major in history, but, like most college students, I didn't think about its practical applications until senior year," Smith said. "I didn't really want to go the corporate route; what solidified my decision was spending a winter term at Historic Deerfield."

Smith also completed a summer program at Historic Deerfield, a well-respected institution that maintains a collection of historic houses as museums. As an intern there, Smith did research projects and went on field trips to other history museums. "It gives you an insider's view."

Smith went on to a position at the New England Historic Genealogical Society in Boston. She started as assistant director of development, but one week into the job, her immediate supervisor left, and Smith found herself director. Her duties were mostly fund-raising, but Smith said she thinks the experience was good for her. "You're not pigeonholed into a specific area," she said.

After a year in Boston, Smith took a job as director of development at the New York Historical Society in Manhattan. "That was a high point," she said. "It has a large and fine library. I worked principally on fund-raising and membership, but I was closely involved with what was going on in the curatorial area."

Smith also did a stint at the John Nicholas Brown Center for the Study of American Civilization in Providence, R.I.

The New York Historical Society has a professional staff of 40; Andover's has three full-timers. Smith's not worried about the transition. The Andover society has an active board of 19 and a large corps of volunteers who do everything from exhibit planning to serving coffee.

Smith has some busy days ahead. One of her next projects is to follow through on an educational program for the Blanchard barn. "We have a very strong reputation for the interpretive program that was developed in the house, and we wanted to bring our barn up to those high standards."

The National Endowment for the Humanities gave the historical society a planning grant. The planning is in its final stages, and Smith is hoping for another grant to implement it. "It's an interesting issue—how to take a structure like that and make it appeal to all ages."

As for the house, it needs work too. "Some rooms have been wallpapered with reproduction early 19th-century paper," said Smith, adding that she'd like to continue that kind of restoration. The goal is to make the rooms "not only attractive, but to make them accurate. And that takes a broad knowledge of the decorative arts—what types of chairs to include, the wallpaper..."

One of the first things Charlotte Smith did when she started her job as director of the Andover Historical Society was move her office closer to the society's entrance.

Next on the agenda is putting the society's collection on computer.

That's what's going on inside the Andover Historical Society. On the outside, at the time Smith took on her directorship, the Abbot Academy controversy was at its height.

Karen Herman, president of the society's board of directors, officially supported the proposal to preserve the Abbot buildings and landscape—a proposal that many opposed because of the perceived impact of the zoning change it would make possible. The article passed by a slim margin at Town Meeting April 12, giving the nod to Phillips Academy to go ahead with its plans.

But is it the society's place to take a stand on a town issue? Charlotte Smith says yes—within reason. "The society is very much concerned with preserving Andover's history, whether it be concerned with books or the landscape of the town of Andover. The society is an advocate of responsible historical renovation. Our stand is in support of the renovation of significant historical buildings," she said. "We do not feel it is our place to take a stand on the particular article that would make that renovation possible. Buildings are as much documents as pieces of paper."

Students, Parents Vie For Math Title

By Julie M. Barry

To keep her hair shiny, Rapunzel brushed her hair at the rate of three strokes every two seconds. How many times did she stroke her hair in an hour?

This was one of many questions asked in a math competition, "Youth & Skill vs. Maturity & Wisdom," which took place at Doherty Junior High School's spring open house May 19.

Members of the math team competed against parents in a close, head-scratching match. The students defeated the "mature and wise" 27-22.

The answer to the question about Rapunzel's hairdo is 5,400 times.

This event was one of many held throughout the evening to show parents what goes on at the school. "It shows different kinds of things kids do throughout the year," said school principal Dr. Richard McGrail.

Fifth- and sixth-graders from Bancroft and South elementary schools and their parents were also invited because those students will be attending Doherty next year.

Visitors were able to view art work displayed in the halls as they moved from one room to another. Watching videos, skits and a musical concert, tasting international food and playing with computers were a few of the many attractions.

Doherty Happenings

Although rainy skies forced a postponement of the scheduled road race, Doherty Junior High School celebrated its annual open house in style. A large number of parents and students turned out for the popular event, which included a buffet dinner, jazz concert, displays throughout the school and a student concert.

Doherty will hold orientation for parents of sixth-grade students on Wednesday, June 8, in the school auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

Doherty

Seventh-graders traveled to Boston last week. Team A took the Boston Harbor cruise and team B visited the Ramesses exhibit at the Museum of Science. A number of eighth-grade students will tour the State House this week. Following their stop at Beacon Hill, the group will head for Quincy Market.

Doherty eighth-grader Allen Soong took first place at the recent spelling bee sponsored by The Lawrence Eagle-Tribune. To win the gold, he competed against 40 students in grades six to eight from local schools. "Mozzarella," "howitzer" and "panettone" were a few of the tricky words Soong had to spell correctly to emerge victorious. He will participate in the Scripps Howard National Competition in Washington, D.C.

Doherty Student Council has been busy encouraging students to take pride in their school. A number of trash barrels, purchased by the council, have been placed around the school and colorful posters remind everyone to help keep Doherty clean.

A number of Doherty students took part in the school's first computer contest. Humorous stories, essays and poems, produced on a word processor, were all eligible. Wendy Darling, grade seven, took first place with a light-hearted poem titled "The Avalanche and my Teeth." Second prize went to Jennifer Neal, grade seven, and third to John Faldetta.

The office staff at Doherty has recognized the students who devote their study periods to making the main office run more smoothly. Volunteers include ninth-graders Ami Bakshi, Brenda Buschmann, Veena Channamasetty, Jennifer Colangeli, Stefan Fodor, Jay Galant, Kerry Galvin, Alan Hennessey, Susan Hinckley, Patrick Holmender, Paula Phieffer, Karyn Ragonese, Jennifer Reese, Elise Wald and Kerry Woods; eighth-graders Lyn Carson and Carl O'Brien; and seventh-grader Diane Aikman.

7 Elected To Montessori Board

The Andover School of Montessori held its annual business meeting May 19 and members elected seven new parent board members to replace retiring members Eleanor Armstrong, Susan Broude, Diane Cohen, Pam Carroll, Amy Sebella and Sherry Spiller, all of Andover, and Brian Baker, Joan Landers, Maureen Trebbe and Wendy Weidler, all of North Andover.

Joining board members James Bracken of North Andover and Cynthia Brown of Andover, and elected for two-year terms are parents Christine Allen, Pamela Burkardt, Alex Costello, Rosemary Smedile and Mary O'Sullivan of North Andover. Peter Groff of Andover and Francis Kelly of West Boxford were elected to fill one-year terms. Election of officers will take place at the next scheduled board meeting.

For the first time in the school's history, the three remaining vacancies on the board will be filled by members elected from the community-at-large. The board of directors recently amended its bylaws to allow for the inclusion of people from the local community who do not have children enrolled in the school, but who would be interested and willing to serve on the board. Anyone interested in serving the school in this capacity should contact Cathi Bracken, head of the nominating committee, or Robin Johansen, program director.

Staff changes for the 1988-89 year were also announced. Andover resident Judith O'Neil of Countryside Way, was appointed director and head of her own classroom. She has been assistant teacher at will return and Tina LaFranchi will continue as executive director along with Program Director Johansen.

Enrollment for next year is nearing full capacity. Information about openings and registration may be obtained from the school located at 180 Main St., North Andover.

Geraniums

According to Warren Shepard, a horticulturist for the Massachusetts Department of Food and Agriculture, geraniums are ideal pot plants for growing indoors year round and outdoors in window boxes, hanging baskets and round beds. Geraniums thrive in almost any climate and require little or no pinching, watering, fertilizing or spraying. There are more than 600 greenhouses in Massachusetts that produce nearly four million geraniums a year for a total value of $8 million.

St. Robert's Graduates 51

Fifty-one students received their diplomas at a graduation program at St. Robert's Country Day School June 1.

The Rev. Frederick Collins, executive director of the school, welcomed the graduates, their parents and guests.

Honorary degrees were presented by the school's director, Helen Keegan, to parents and friends of the school for special services they did for the students during the school year. Those degree recipients are Frank Seluk, Diana Tisbert, John and Eileen Gardner, Rick and Lynne Robidoux, Bill and Cindy Bagge-roer, Ed O'Connor, Marsha Cohen and Rogerr and Linda Young.

The children were led into the graduation ceremonies by Robo the Robot, in keeping with the theme "2001—Stars of the Future" (2001 is the year this class will graduate from high school).

A time capsule was built for the graduation, and each of the five classes inserted something appropriate before the capsule was stored. A poem was written by each class and was recited as they loaded the capsule.

Following presentation of the diplomas by John and Doris Maliszewski, co-chairmen of the 1987-'87 parents board, the children and their guests adjourned to the school hall for refreshments and viewing of the children's art depicting their goals for the future.

Two recent high school graduated and former CDS students who won CDS scholarships in 1986 and '87, Joe Vecchi of Tewksbury, a Bates College student, and Andrea Lombardi of Tewksbury, now at North Adams State College, were special guests at the graduation.

West Parish Tour Sunday

Andover Historical Society's Historic Walking Tours: June 5, West Parish Center, and June 12, School Street Sampler. Lithograph from the society's collections donated by Arthur Peatman, "Andover, Mass. from the North-West."

Residents of Andover will have a chance to learn more about the very interesting town in which they live on Sunday, June 5. The Andover Historical Society will hold a walking tour of the historic West Parish area, including the old burying ground. Barbara Thibault, curator of education, will lead the group which will meet at 2 p.m. in front of the cemetery gates on Reservation Road. There is a small fee for non-members. The tour will take two hours. If it rains, a slide-tape program about West Parish women will be presented at the Andover Historical Society headquarters, 97 Main St.

School Street Sampler is a special event on Sunday, June 12, from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. Along this heritage walk there will be tours of historic buildings and gardens, public and private. Guides from the Andover Historical Society will highlight such Andover landmarks as the burying ground, schoolhouse and parsonage of the old South Parish. Parking, a brochure with a self-guiding map and tickets will be available at South Church during the tour. Refreshments and entertainment at the Abbot Academy Circle are included in the registration fee.

The West Parish Center Walk provides an overview of an Andover neighborhood while the School Street Sampler gives an inside look into historic Andover's way of life.

Everybody is invited to put on a pair of comfortable shoes and spend both afternoons learning about Andover places

Spanish Music Featured

The Scarborough Chamber Players, recipients of a grant awarded by the Methuen Council on the Arts and Cultural Affairs, will present a concert of chamber music classics with a Latin flair entitled "Bravo Espana!" on Friday, June 10, at 7 p.m. in the Methuen Memorial Music Hall, Route 28, Broadway. Tickets are available in advance or at the door.

William Buonocore, guitar, Jonathan Cohler, clarinet, and Anna Soranno, soprano, will perform with flutist and artistic director Virginia Sindelar the rhythms of the habanera and flamenco and the lyrical melodies of Spanish folk songs in this concert of works by Manuel de Falla of Spain, Leo Brouwer of Cuba and Jacques Ibert and Maurice Ravel, both of France. These composers were influenced and inspired by the beauty and heritage of Spain and its people.

Founded in 1982, the Scarborough Chamber Players presents an annual concert series at Harvard University's Sanders Theatre. Noted for its frequent collaborations with other musicians, this Boston-based group also works with artists from the dance, visual arts and literary worlds in an effort to integrate the various artistic disciplines.

Sindelar and Buonocore just returned from a successful international debut at the Seoul Arts Center in Korea where they performed to an audience of more than 1,600. The ensemble has toured Massachusetts, New England, New York and Illinois and will appear in four concerts at the Rockport Chamber Music Festival in June.

Each session will have a maximum enrollment of 20 youngsters between the ages of 7 and 15. Each age category, 7-11 and 12-15, will consist of ten youngsters, one instructor and one intern. MRT has requested space in the veterans' wing of the auditorium and, hopefully, the classes will be held in airy, well-ventilated rooms overlooking the tree-lined canals. The children will explore storytelling (traditional and modern), playwriting (based on family histories), music, radio theatre, an oral history project, writing,

Christian Scientist To Lecture

Is there anything the individual can do to combat the rampant lawlessness and erosion of common decency confronting the world today? That's the question Robert Gates will address in his lecture Saturday, June 4, at 11 a.m. under a tent at the Lawrence North Common in Lawrence.

For many years Gates has devoted full time to spiritual healing as a Christian Science practitioner. His lecture, "A Healing Response to Lawlessness," will illustrate how individuals can deal prayerfully, not only with violence and terrorism abroad and at home, but also with challenges not ordinarily attributed to lawlessness, such as illness and loneliness.

His account of one man's peaceful resolution of harassment and repeated vandalism is attributed to "prayer that springs from a clear perception that God alone governs and that God's qualities are continuously expressed in man" as well as to "obedience to Christ Jesus' urging to love one another."

This isn't a matter of ignoring evil and lawlessness, Gates adds. "Loving our enemies by no means supports the criminal or terrorist activity. On the contrary, it repudiates evil. It cherishes the true Godlike, spiritual nature of man as the only man there is. It exposes the heinous act as a powerless denial of God's supremacy."

Gates grew up in Ohio and moved to Boston, after graduating from college with a major in journalism, to write for The Christian Science Monitor. He and his wife have two college-age children and make their home in Marblehead.

Trends in Kitchen and Bath Design

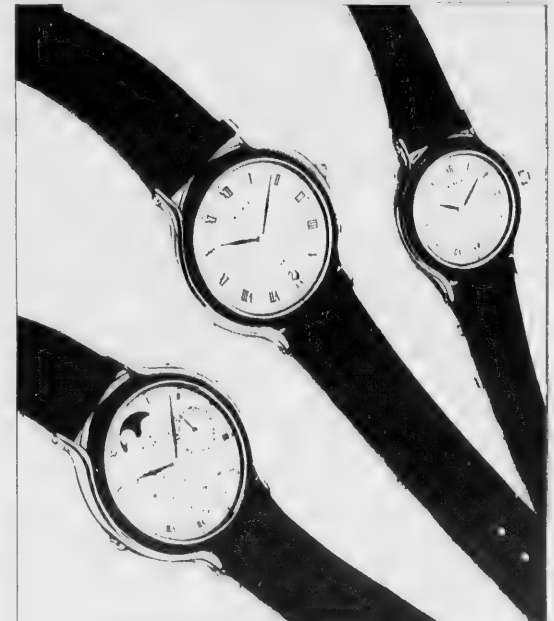

by Kevin Hennessey and Sean Walsh

Sell cleaning is probably the most desirable conventional oven feature to be developed in recent years. There are two types of self-cleaning ovens, pyrolytic and catalytic. In the pyrolytic system, the oven is heated to a temperature range between 700 and 1,000 degrees. The mess in the oven is thus incinerated, leaving only a fine ash to be wiped off. The catalytic system employs a coating on inside surface which, in effect, lets the oven clean itself in normal cooking ranges through action of the catalytic coating. This system is usually referred to as "continuous clean," or "stay clean." It is the catalytic system that probably offers a greater variety of choices among models.

The correct appliances are only part of the total design of your new kitchen. Proper placement that is appropriate to the traffic flow and work area is a major consideration in any new design or renovation. younger to gather opinions about the school, Robb said.

According to Robb, the School Committee was under the impression that there would be reasonable time—until the fall—before making a decision about the Collaborative School. Now, he says, they have to decide what to say to the town.

The School Committee will have to take a position before Town Meeting.

School Committee member Susan Poore also spoke at the FinCom meeting. She gave what she called a "minority report" to FinCom, as she usually stands alone in her views toward the Collaborative School.

"The suggestion that people don't have enough information is a strategy, not a fact," Poore said. "My suggestion is the cost figures are so astronomically high that if they were openly discussed people would be up in arms," she said.

John Dziadul, head of Citizens for Neighborhood Schools, was at the meeting to speak about the capital costs and the bonding issue, the operating costs and some areas of the agreement he says are flawed.

Lawrence's financial stability also concerns Dziadul. "It doesn't make sense to enter into a contract with a city who is in a fiscal deficit," he said.

Dziadul says he's confident that the financial questions raised at the meeting will remain. "There's no question in my mind that the issues that concerned FinCom Thursday will still exist in four or five months," he said.

He says it's time to vote. "Now that legislation and the agreement are in place, let's vote," Dziadul said.

Proponents of the school maintain that there are too many unanswered questions.

"As much as I want this school, I think it would be irresponsible to expect people to go along with the project at this point, with so many unanswered questions," said Rick Elias, head of Citizens for Excellence in Education.

But, according to Elias, voting "no" at Town Meeting doesn't mean

Training Clinics Offered

Windrush Farm of Boxford has a limited number of spaces available in its summer horseback riding clinics for able bodied riders interested in combined training and dressage.

Each clinic is Monday through Thursday from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. The instructors will be Marjorie V. Kittredge, national "R" judge of dressage, combined training and driving, Amanda Carey-Hogan, certified instructor specializing in combined training and dressage, and Thistle Brecher, dressage specialist.

Two 1½ hour riding sessions each day will consist of riding on the flat and work over fences. The jumping will be a combination of gymnastic, stadium and cross country. There will be lunchtime discussions on horsemastership theory and application and hands-on horse care and stable management.

Four sessions are offered: July 5-8, 11-14, 18-21 and 25-28. Participants may join one or more sessions.

Each clinic is carefully designed to maximize the individual's potential. Riders the School Committee should disregard the project.

Elias contends that the meeting is a political move on the part of the school's opponents. He says it's normal for people to vote "no" when they don't understand an issue.

"It's (Town Meeting) a farce because it's a waste of time, energy and money of the town," Elias said.

ers may bring their own horse for schooling or lease one of Windrush Farm's horses.

There will be opportunities to learn about and participate in the riding for the disabled afternoon program every day after the clinic. Volunteers are needed.

For more information and an application, call or write Windrush Farm, Brookview Road, Boxford, MA 01921.

Planning Board Turns Down Church's Request To Build

By Frank Messina

The Planning Board is not unused to pressure.

Often, the decisions they make have million-dollar impact upon the town. Their decisions strongly affect the quality of life in Andover. Their decisions sometimes wind up being tested in court.

In deciding whether to allow the New England Bible Church to build a place of worship off Chandler Road near I-495, the board not only had to turn down a church, but they were also required to read minds.

In December 1975, planning board members at that time, zoned the 11-acre plot of land in question for one, single-family dwelling.

As Steve Colyer, town physical planner, told the board at their May 23 meeting, "you need to ask yourselves, why was the restriction imposed to begin with?"

In deciding to deny the church's application to modify the land use, the board felt that their predecessors were interested in protecting the environmentally sensitive wetlands in the area.

"I've got to believe that 1975 was not that long ago, that conditions are not that different," said board member Michael Houghton.

The board members were also nervous about the affect church traffic would have on busy Chandler Road.

William MacLeod of Andover Consultants, in representing the church, said that worshippers would not be arriving during peak traffic hours.

"This is not a factory, letting out several times a day, it's a church," said MacLeod.

However, Colyer jumped in, pointing out that the church also had plans for a school on the site that would teach 100 to 200 students.

MacLeod also protested the timing of the May 23 board hearing, the last meeting before the church's application expired.

The consultant said he had just received a Colyer memo directed at the board outlining the town planner's concerns, shortly before the meeting.

Colyer responded that his memo was derived from notes taken from an informal town interdepartmental meeting held April 5 which MacLeod and church attorneys also attended.

The board voted unanimously not to modify land use conditions for the parcel.

DPW Head Named Unsung Hero

Robert McQuade, head of Andover's Public Works Department, received an "unsung hero" award May 19 at a Kiwanis luncheon held at the Andover Country Club.

The award came as a surprise to McQuade, who was a guest at the luncheon. "It was a complete surprise," he said.

Superintendent of Schools Kenneth Seifert, a member of the Greater Lawrence Kiwanis, presented the award to McQuade. The plaque reads "Greater Lawrence Kiwanis presents the Unsung Hero Award to Mr. Robert E. McQuade for his unselfish commitment to the Andover community in times of greatest need."

Kiwanis awards are given three to four times a year to club members or town employees, Seifert said.

McQuade was honored for the amount of time he spends solving problems related to flooding and snow storms, Seifert said. He referred to last spring's flood and said McQuade was responsible for saving the water supply in Andover. "The guy had three hours sleep in 72 hours. We know that for a fact," Seifert said. "When there's an emergency, that's what he does."

McQuade's consistency in handling crises was another factor leading to his award, Seifert said. "He spends time day and night to get a problem solved, and he's done it consistently."

McQuade has been working for the town of Andover since 1970.

Seifert, a member of the Kiwanis recognition committee, said the award was titled "unsung hero" because McQuade does what he does as just another part of his job. But, Seifert said, "Kiwanis recognized this as doing more."

"He (McQuade) has been doing this for years—anything for the health and safety of the town," Seifert said.

Eugene Doran's Homecoming

Victim Of Freak Accident Adjusts To New Life

By Julie M. Barry

If life is like a rollercoaster, full of ups and downs, then Eugene Doran is on an uphill swing.

"I've been home two weeks and I've never felt better and healthier in the 25 months," Doran said.

Doran spent that time at the Veterans Hospital in West Roxbury recuperating from a tragic accident that left him paralyzed. While sitting in a barber shop in 1986, Doran was hit by a nail shot from a stud gun in an adjacent store.

Finally, he's home with his family, living on Holt Road in their newly built house.

Doran is quick to point out that the house was built and designed for the whole family. It was "done with the intent that it really wouldn't look like a handicapped home," he said.

There are only a few signs that it is the home of a disabled person.

"It's spacious," he said. There are oversized doors and hallways which allow him to move freely about the first floor.

With the exception of a ramp in the garage, all the doors are level with the outside ground. This enables him to go in and out of the house without the use of ramps.

An elevator is being installed, but it is inconspicuous, hidden behind what looks like a closet door. This will allow him access to any one of the three floors.

There is some medical equipment in the bedroom to handle his needs.

Doran requires a 24-hour nursing staff. Currently, they work shifts, but if he ever required live-in help, there would be space. The third floor has its own kitchen, bedroom and bath.

He lives with his wife, Kathy, and their three children, Colleen, 15, Gene, 12, and Caitlin, 6.

Doran says he's fortunate that his children have rebounded terrifically, and that they have a great relationship. "I think they've sort of got beyond the point of my disability and look at me like they used to," he said.

"They've done remarkably well. They're great children," he said with admiration.

Doran has been spending the past few weeks catching up with his family.

He has also been involved with financial planning. This is a big job as he was awarded $15.35 million for his injuries. "No amount of money could replace what I feel I've lost, but I'm thankful and appreciative for the hard work of my attorneys (Meehan, Boyle & Cohen) who worked so hard to get such an award," he said.

"I'm grateful for the money because it will allow me opportunities," he said. And, he said, "it will allow me to know that my family will be provided for without any great difficulty financially."

Equipment in Doran's house is the epitome of advanced technology. He can move around in his wheelchair by simply blowing into a tube.

An environmental control unit will also be installed. Blowing into a tube will enable Doran to answer the phone and turn on the television.

Andover Pays Special Tribute To Korean War Veterans

The rain held out just long enough Monday for Andover's Memorial Day Parade and related festivities.

But the drizzly day didn't dampen the spirits of participants who turned out in the hundreds to pay tribute to veterans.

The theme of this year's celebration was the Korean War and the four Andover men who died in that conflict—Frederick Graves, Samuel Turner, John Andonian and Donald Lee.

"The town of Andover is determined to (honor) our townsmen who gave their lives in the forgotten war," said keynote speaker John H. Carroll, Jr., executive director of the Greater Lawrence and Greater Lowell Red Cross chapters. "The Korean conflict did much to change the course of America's history...It was truly the wrong war at the wrong time against the wrong enemy."

"America's role as guardian of freedom has not been discredited," continued Carroll, who retired as a Navy commander 15 years ago. "This year the land of war will host the games of peace."

The Memorial Day festivities brought out a lot of young families with children, most of whom seemed to enjoy everything but the gun volleys. Rows of American flags lined Main Street. And people were dressed in red, white and blue for the occasion.

But for veterans, the day was more than pomp and circumstance and a day off from work. "It brings back mixed feelings—some bad, most good," said John C. Doherty of Carmel Road, the Vietnam veteran who made the opening remarks on the lawn in front of the town offices Monday. "I knew most of the six guys in Andover that were killed (in Vietnam)."

Donald Wheelock of Morton Street stood on a sidewalk watching the parade go by. Wheelock, an Army veteran of World War II, marched in 25 of Andover's Memorial Day parades. "That's enough," he said. "Let them young guys take care of that."

The whole day, he said, "brings a lot of memories."

Above, the Andover-First New Hampshire Militia fires their muskets, much to the chagrin of the young people

THE TOWNSMAN, JUNE 2, 1988

Disturbing

There are some disturbing items to discuss this week, one dealing with the theft of American Flags over the weekend, the other the continued delay and inconvenience presented the public with the completion of the Memorial Hall Library project.

First, the disgraceful act of stealing flags from grave sites as well as from poles along the Street of Memorial Flags and in front of old town hall. John Lewis, head of veterans services for the town, headed to St. Augustine's Cemetery early Tuesday morning to replace between 50 to 60 flags which had been taken from veteran graves. They had been placed there by members of Andover veterans organization and the patriotic holiday committee a week earlier in anticipation of the Memorial Day holiday.

State law mandates that all veteran graves must be decorated with an American Flag for Memorial Day. For years Andover veterans have gathered the Sunday before Memorial Day and Veterans Day, volunteering their time to not only conform to the law but to pay tribute to those who sacrificed to keep our country free.

Now that work is disgraced by some person or persons for some unknown reason.

Also, at St. Augustine's there was a headstone marred by placement of satanic markings noticed by Andover police in attendance at special Memorial Day services there.

In addition to the thefts at St. Augustine's Cemetery, the town also lost several flags placed as part of the Street of Memorial Flags tribute prior to patriotic holidays in Andover. A few were taken from the Ballardvale center area and a few more in the South Main street area.

These flags are given to the town in memory of deceased veterans and presented to the community by the family. It is shameful that irresponsible people choose to disrupt a fitting tribute and a patriotic observance through such actions.

Police and veterans services officials have indicated that while it will be difficult to find those responsible for these actions as well as the theft of the flag in front of old town hall, they will pursue the matter with full intent toward prosecution, if successful.

As for the library situation, it would seem that the time has arrived for town officials to get the contractors to expedite the work and get the project completed.

There was some patience exercised by the public during the major reconstruction work and understandably so.

But the overall completion of the renovations has gone on far too long.

The library is one of the most popular public places in Andover and the continued inconvenience caused by the construction work is distracting and disturbing.

The time has come for executive action to get this project fully completed and make the library a place of comfort, enjoyment and convenience for the townspeople who enjoy its services.

Just A Thought
By Bob Finneran

Memorial Day has always been a fine day in Andover, enhanced more recently by the display of American flags which grace the entrance to town prior to every patriotic holiday.

There is also a bit of nostalgia involved in the annual patriotic holiday, a tradition, if you will, which may be fading but still kept alive to a certain degree each year.

It's the appearance of coconuts being enjoyed along the parade route by young and old alike.

For years the day began with a stop at Pete's (The Andover Spa) to pick up a coconut, put a hole in the top and drink the milk. Then, the coconut would be smashed and the remainder of the delectable item devoured.

It was nice to stop by the Spa this year and be greeted by a box of coconuts with a sign noting the Andover tradition.

While not too many were sold, there was sufficient amounts to be seen along the parade route to indicate that whether or not people knew it, there was a continuation of an Andover tradition.

And, while the overall Memorial Day tribute was in the finest of Andover traditions, there was a particularly notable section in the parade which should be mentioned.

The appearance of a contingent of Phillips Academy students and faculty marked the first time in many years that there was a full representation from the academy in this annual patriotic tribute.

A year ago there was a group of faculty members who participated.

This year the faculty was joined by several students who marched to Memorial Auditorium for the main service, then departed to the campus.

Later in the day many of the students were seen participating in their own Memorial Day tribute in front of the Memorial Tower at South Main and Salem Streets.

It was particularly significant in view of the return to municipal participation in Memorial Day exercises.

Indeed, it was a far cry from those turbulent times in the late 1960's when a group of PA students disrupted the annual parade in protest over the Vietnam War.

At the time the young people put on black arm bands, became disruptive to the point of near riotous activity in the area near the Andover Shoppe on Main street.

It led to the readjustment of the parade route as the town cancelled its annual procession up the hill for a service at Memorial Tower, then a return to the downtown area to disband the parade.

With this year's participation, led by Headmaster Donald McNemar, it is evident that Phillips Academy is definitely a community-oriented institution.

DOWN THE YEARS

100 Years Ago — May 1888

Last Tuesday there were put up in this vicinity (Frye Village) three additional street lamps, which will be a great benefit to the community.

Mr. William Poor has just finished a new butcher's wagon for the Valpey Brothers, also a new milk wagon for M.C. Evans of Wakefield. The material and workmanship of both are first rate, and do great credit to the manufacturer.

Memorial Day opened with rainy clouds but the weather did not seriously interfere with the service of the day; in fact, the well sprinkled streets and the clouded sun were favorable to the comfort of the procession. Before commencing the public exercises at the Town Hall, the members of the Gen. Wm. F. Bartlett Post 99, G.A.R., had been at the Memorial Hall, where they paid the customary salute to the memory of their dead comrades, and decorated their Tablet.

75 Years Ago — May 1913

Arrangements have been made by Phillips Academy to open the swimming pool to the public during the summer. The season will extend from June 30 to August 16. Season tickets are $2.00.

Repairs are being made on Main street in front of the Bank Building by the road superintendent.

The selectmen recently purchased from Mrs. William S. Nokes of Reading a fine iron-grey horse for use in the department of Horses and Drivers.

Thought to have been the oldest horse in this part of the country, Dick, the brown pony owned for several years past by George A. Higgins, died this week following an attack of heart trouble. As nearly as can be estimated he was forty three years of age.

He had been a familiar figure on the streets of the town for many years.

50 Years Ago — May 1938

The Board of Health office was moved over the weekend from the rented quarters on Park street to the former checkroom on the second floor of the town hall. Some alterations have been made, and the relief office has been moved across the hall. It is estimated that the move will save the town at least $300 annually.

25 Years Ago — May 1963

A five-division parade is set for tomorrow morning, as the town celebrates Memorial Day and conducts appropriate services.

The oldest part of the Tyer Rubber Co. warehouse will be torn down this summer, leaving the newer portion for retail and light assembly operations.

10 Years Ago — May 1978

State Representative Gerald M. Cohen will officially be a candidate for re-election and not seek the Fifth Congressional seat being vacated by Congressman Paul Tsongas.

Some 7,000 to 8,000 alumni, students, parents, faculty and friends are expected for Phillips Academy's four-day 200th anniversary celebration which begins today. Saturday's Grand Parade and Bicentennial Convocation will be the focal point of the Celebration, which simultaneously marks Phillips' 200th, and the 150th birthday of Abbot Academy.

Appointment of the newly created position of community development director is probably six to eight weeks off, according to Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark.

THE PUBLIC FORUM

Sincere Appreciation

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

I want to express my sincere appreciation for your May 19 editorial objecting to the upcoming Special Town Meeting called by Citizens for Neighborhood Schools (CNS), a group whose one and only purpose is the destruction of the Collaborative School Project. Taking a public position on any facet of this extremely controversial issue is difficult; I commend your integrity and your courage. Thank you.

Question: Why would CNS, a political group which has worked diligently to destroy the Collaborative School Project, call an immediate Special Town Meeting proposing the establishment of this same school to the citizens of Andover?

Answer: They are afraid that the proposal will be accepted if residents have any more time to fully understand the facts. They see the tremendous level of support for this extraordinary elementary school, especially among parents of young children and among educators; their objective seems to be to kill the project before the supporters gain any more strength.

What a slap in the face to Andover citizens and to our elected officials who have been carefully studying and analyzing this complex proposal for a year and a half! The Selectmen, Finance Committee and School Committee say they are not ready to bring this issue to the citizens on June 20 because the parent interest survey and financial package details are still incomplete. CNS, whose motto is "Make An Informed Decision," is desperately trying to stage a judgment day, forcing Andover residents to make an uninformed and premature decision on a vitally important issue.

The tactics of CNS, which include spreading misinformation and confusion while exploiting the fears of Andover parents and other citizens, are repugnant to many of us. This latest scheme, petitioning for a special town meeting and demanding a premature vote before anyone is prepared to present the proposal, is manipulative and irresponsible. CNS is exploiting the town meeting process in order to gain unfair advantage by confusing the citizens of Andover. How tragic to see a group of people so desperate and determined to destroy a brand new elementary school.

Love Thy Neighbor

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

When emotions get in the way, the issues become lost. How often will the newspapers and the media continue to attack individuals rather than the issues they are representing?

The TOWNSMAN has recently fallen into this trap in the May 26 editorial by trying to discredit a spokesman for a local citizens' group. This man represents a large number of people, and to attack him is to attack a majority of the registered voters in this community.

When citizens research new concepts and raise concerns about their effects, they trust that community leaders are doing the same and not dismissing anyone's concerns as a nuisance.

People may not have the same opinion on every issue, but everyone has a right to be heard. Remember, when all is said and done, we all have to live together.

SPORTING LIFE

Surette,
Wallace
All-Stars

By Rick Harrison

Junior pitcher-outfielder Steve Surette and senior second baseman Scott Wallace were named to the Merrimack Valley Baseball Conference first-team All-Star squad last week, while Dave Bettencourt was voted MVC Large School "Coach-of-the-Year."

Surette and Wallace were among 12 players from the 11 league teams selected for the elite All-Conference contingent.

They also were joined by teammates Tom Murray and Mike Moriarty on the 17-player Large School team that faced the Small Schoolers in the annual MVC All-Star Game under the lights last Tuesday night at Alumni Field in Lowell.

Surette, who finished a close second to Tewksbury High catcher Chris Mader in the balloting for league Most Valuable Player, completed the regular season with a 7-2 record, six complete games and a .316 batting average.

Surette highlighted his season with back-to-back pitching gems against Lowell (4-2 win) and Billerica (2-1) within a four-day stretch, the former victory clinching Andover's Eastern Mass. Division 1 Tournament berth and the latter securing the MVC Large School title.

The junior righthander missed hitting the trifecta last Sunday night, pitching in the Lawrence Invitational Tournament title game which was won by the Lancers.

He is the only junior on the All-Conference team.

Wallace is currently hitting .375 for AHS and leads the team in several offensive categories including official at-bats (72) and hits (27). He is also an outstanding sure-handed member of the Warriors' keystone combo.

Murray is batting .345 and Moriarty .387.

University of New Hampshire graduate Bettencourt, in his second season at Andover after coaching stints at the University of Lowell and Central Catholic, guided the Warriors to a 14-6 record during the regular season and is 24-16 in two years.

Completing the MVC All-Conference team are seniors Mader, pitcher Peter Friend (6-3 record) and first baseman Jay Rideout of Tewksbury, pitcher Shawn Phillips (6-4) of Lawrence, pitcher-outfielder John Buckley (4-4) of Dracut, outfielder Bill Avery of Chelmsford, shortstop Glenn DiSarcina of Billerica, shortstop John Daileanes of Central Catholic, infielder Dave Bueno of Methuen and outfielder Joe McMenimen of Wilmington.

Bob Ware of Tewksbury was voted MVC Small School "Coach-of-the-Year."

Another Andover resident, Central Catholic junior catcher Glenn Farnham, was selected to play for the Large School team in Tuesday night's All-Star Game.

Warriors Cap Best Season Ever
Finishing Second In Tourney

By Rick Harrison

The Andover High varsity baseball team last weekend put the wraps on its most successful regular season in many years, placing second in the four-team Lawrence Invitational Tournament at Mark Devlin Field.

The Merrimack Valley Conference Large School champions, scheduled to begin Eastern Mass. Division 1 Tournament play within the next few days, defeated Methuen 5-2 in the Lawrence tourney semifinals before bowing to the host Lancers and ace left-hander Shawn Phillips 8-2 in Sunday night's under-the-lights title game.

Those results left the Golden Warriors, 1987 Lawrence tourney champs, with a 14-6 overall record this spring.

"The kids did a little better than I thought they would," observed second-year coach Dave Bettencourt. "I say that only because we play in a very tough league, and when the season started I wasn't sure how deep our pitching was."

"We have a good mix of veterans and underclassmen. The players we expected big things from came through. Kids like (pitcher-outfielder) Steve Surette and the heart of our batting order: Mike Moriarty, (co-captains) Scott Wallace and Tom Murray."

And there were also a number of very pleasant surprises, each of whom was a big contributor to the championship year.

"John Russell (junior) stepped up and made tremendous improvement as a pitcher. He threw the ball a lot harder as the season went along," noted Bettencourt.

"John Glynn (junior) was the biggest surprise offensively (.385 average) because he was a relative unknown, and Keith Abernathy (junior) leading the team in hitting (.452) was another key factor."

"This season is far from over, but next year looks encouraging with Surette, Russell, Abernathy and Glynn coming back along with promising younger pitchers (sophomore lefty) Chris Eggert, (sophomore righty) Curt Solomon and (junior righty) Todd Mustertail."

Lost through graduation will be catcher Tom Murray, second baseman Scott Wallace, first baseman Chris Concemi and outfielders Mike Moriarty and Rick Lafond.

"We'll have to fill a few major holes," said Bettencourt. "Hopefully Jack Dalton will move in to Murray's spot behind the plate, and we'll be looking for an outfielder or two."

EMass. Tournament

The Eastern Mass. Division 1 Tournament pairings were scheduled to be released last Tuesday night, with Tuesday the cutoff date for qualification.

Through Monday's action 19 teams had qualified, including Andover's Merrimack Valley Conference rivals Billerica, Chelmsford and Lawrence. Lowell High also had an outside shot but needed a final victory over Chelmsford.

The Golden Warriors ranked 11th among the 19 schools, which meant they were in line for a bye through today's preliminary round.

Waltham appeared headed for the top seed with a 15-2 record, while other top teams included Lincoln-Sudbury, Newton South and St. John's Prep (all 13-3).

"By losing the last game against Lawrence I believe we gave up home field for the opening round of the tourney," admitted Bettencourt. "The way it appears we'll face either Revere or Malden at their field in our first game."

Andover would have to win four games to capture the North Division 1 title, and two more to claim a state championship.

"Steve Surette (7-2) will be our opening-game starting pitcher," confirmed Bettencourt. "But I have great confidence in Johnny Russell (4-3) as well. We have two outstanding pitchers and that's what you need to go anywhere in the tournament."

Season Stats

Although Andover couldn't maintain its torrid first-half team batting pace over the final 10 games, the Golden Warriors did have six regulars finish over the .300 mark for the regular season.

Junior shortstop Keith Abernathy, who reversed the general trend by turning white-hot in the second half, was the top hitter with a .452 average on 19-for-42.

Cleanup hitter Mike Moriarty, the top power man, enters the tourney as the second leading batter at .387.

John Glynn, who led the entire Merrimack Valley Conference for much of the year, sits at .385 while Scott Wallace is .375, Tom Murray .345, Steve Surette .316, junior DH Matt Pothier .275 and senior first baseman Chris Concemi .254.

Wallace spearheads the Warriors in official at-bats (72) and hits (27), while other team frontrunners are Murray in runs scored (20), Moriarty in RBI (23) and doubles (5), Surette and Murray in triples (3), Glynn and Moriarty in homeruns (1), and Pothier in stolen bases (10).

Moriarty has 24 hits, Glynn 20, Murray 19 and Abernathy 19.

Moriarty scored 15 runs and Wallace 13, Wallace has 14 RBI and Glynn 13, Murray four doubles, Moriarty two triples and Moriarty five intentional walks.

Surette is 7-2 on the mound, Russell 4-3, Wallace 2-1 and Abernathy 1-0.

Lawrence Tournament

"I thought we played well in the tournament," said Bettencourt. "It just wasn't meant to be."

"Lawrence needed the victory in the final to qualify for the Eastern Mass. tourney, and did what it had to do."

"Any time Phillips throws he can negate all the talent on an opposing team. I felt we hit the ball better than the first two times we faced him, and we may see him a fourth time in the (EMass.) tournament."

The hard-throwing Lancer lefty, who previously lost to Andover 3-2 and beat the Warriors 3-1 under the lights, scattered six AHS hits, fanned seven and walked three.

The latter figure is the most important one, because when Phillips (6-4 record) is wild he surrenders much of his effectiveness.

Steve Surette was the losing pitcher, although he allowed just two earned runs until the seventh when Lawrence touched the tired AHS ace for three doubles, two singles and four runs.

Phillips threw 111 pitches and Surette 124.

Sophomore southpaw Chris Eggert made his varsity debut in the seventh, striking out the only batter he faced on a steady diet of curveballs.

Tourney champ Lawrence, which won its last three games to qualify at 12-7, scored an unearned run in

Legion Team Should Be Strong Contenders

By Rick Harrison

Bulwarked by seven members of the Merrimack Valley Large School champion Andover High varsity team, the 1988 Andover Legion Post 8 baseball squad should field one of its strongest editions ever this summer.

Legion coach Al Pelletier, who is beginning his sixth season at the helm, recently trimmed the roster to 16 players in preparation for the scheduled Friday, June 10 opener against Inter-Zone opponent Peabody.

The four 18-year-olds on Post 8 are Merrimack Valley Conference All-Stars Scott Wallace and Steve Surette, Chris Concemi (AHS) and catcher John Moosa who played for William & Mary College as a freshman this spring.

The seven 17-year-olds are Tom Murray, John Russell and John Glynn (AHS), Andy Shea and Joe Lyons of Phillips-Andover Academy, Kevin Foley of Brooks School in North Andover and Barry Connors who played varsity baseball at Choate this year.

Completing the talented squad are 16-year-olds Keith Abernathy (AHS varsity leading hitter, .452), the Andover junior varsity trio of Curt Soloman, Peter Reming and Sean Gill, and Andover West freshman team member Joe Iarrobino.

The Post 8 pitching staff should be comprised of Surette, Russell, Foley, Connors, Wallace and possibly Abernathy and Soloman.

Surette is 7-2 with the Andover High varsity, Russell 4-3, Wallace 2-1, Abernathy 1-0, Connors 3-1 with three saves at Choate, and Foley had a winning record at Brooks.

Murray, Moosa and Gill will make the Post 8 catching a major strength, while the entire AHS infield of Glynn (third), Abernathy (short), Wallace (second) and Concemi (first) could remain intact.

Lyons, Shea, Surette and Russell are excellent outfielders, while Soloman, Reming and Iarrobino can play either infield or outfield.

Post 8 finished 13-9 last year, runner-up to Lawrence in Zone 8-A.

the top of the first (Andover home team by coin flip).

Leadoff batter Brendan Neilon was nicked on the wrist by a Surette pitch. Kevin Dolan singled him to third, and Neilon scored when Kevin Fielding's potential inning-ending doubleplay grounder produced a wild relay throw.

Phillips helped himself by leading the second inning with an opposite-field homerun to left, and in the third Dolan singled and later crossed on a throwing error.

In the Lawrence sixth Peter LeFebre singled, and Fielding laid down a sacrifice bunt with both runners safe on a throwing error. Kevin Cavallaro bunted the pair into scoring position, and Phillips was intentionally walked to load the bases with one out.

Surette fanned John Sanzica for the second out, but Amilio Colon walked on a close 3-2 serve to force home a run. Kevin Schiavone then popped out to Keith Abernathy at short with the bases loaded.

Andover, which didn't get the leadoff batter aboard until the seventh and only threatened seriously in two innings, ruined Phillips' shutout bid and trimmed its deficit to 4-2 in the bottom of the sixth.

Tom Murray drilled a two-strike double to the left-field corner, Mike Moriarty singled to deep short and then stole second, and Abernathy lined a clutch two-out, two-strike single to left-centerfield to chase home both runs.

The only other AHS bid came in the third when Matt Pothier slapped a two-out single, Scott Wallace singled and stole second, and then Murray's sharp grounder to short was fielded cleanly by Neilon.

Chris Concemi walked and advanced to second on a wild pitch in the second stanza, Abernathy lofted a two-out, lost-in-the-lights double to rightfield in the fourth, Matt Pothier walked twice, and Steve Howes led off the seventh with a pinch-hit single.

Phillips helped himself by picking two runners off first base.

Lawrence's four-run seventh featured consecutive leadoff doubles by Neilon, Dolan (RBI) and LeFebre (RBI), a run-scoring fielder's choice by Phillips and a run-producing single from Sanzica.

The defensive play of the game was executed by Andover third baseman John Glynn, who stabbed a line drive by Fielding and doubled a runner off first base.

Abernathy went 2-for-3 while the Lancers' 10-hit attack was led by Dolan at 3-for-4, Colon 2-for-3 and LeFebre 2-for-4.

The 5-2 victory over Methuen was highlighted by John Russell's five-hit pitching.

Russell walked three and struck out seven, whiffing two Ranger batters three times each.

Methuen jumped ahead 1-0 in the first when leadoff batter Dave Bueno walked, Jeff Coppeta singled and Shawn Berryman grounded into a fielder's choice.

The Golden Warriors tied it 1-1 in the second as Chris Concemi legged out an infield hit, stole second and scored on Rick Lafond's single.

In the Methuen fourth Berryman belted a lead-off double and crossed on Ray Veno's single, but AHS pulled even again in the fifth as Steve Surette drilled a leadoff double, moved to third on John Glynn's bunt and raced home on Scott Wallace's single.

The Warriors won it with a three-run sixth. Mike Moriarty ripped a leadoff single, took second on a throwing error, third on a wild pitch, and scored on Chris Concemi's fielder's choice grounder.

Concemi stole second, took third on Keith Abernathy's bunt, and trotted home when Lafond hammered a line drive double off the top of the leftfield fence.

Cardinals Perched Atop Majors

By Jim Arnold

Todd Harris shut out the Pirates with a masterful two-hit mound stint to give the defending town champion Cardinals a one-game lead in the National League Majors division of the Andover Little League. A Saturday win over the Indians enabled the Cards to maintain a leg up on the Cubs and Pirates. The standings are: Cardinals 5-1; Pirates 4-2; Cubs 3-2; Braves 3-3; Mets 2-4.

Braves 4 - Twins 0

The Braves received a stellar pitching performance from Matt Wolcott to hand manager Art Sullivan a win in his first Andover Little League contest. Wolcott walked four and allowed just two hits. Second baseman Danny Hansberry contributed a steady defensive game. Tim Sullivan and Dana DiFiore backboned the outfield's effort.

The Twins didn't muster much offense but received excellent pitching by Brian Hussey and Richie Mendez.

Cardinals 14 - Twins 4

Brian Flanagan had a two-run homer and hurled four steady innings to boost the Cardinals to an opening day win. They spotted the Twins four runs in the first stanza. Todd Harris smacked four hits and struck out five batters in a two-inning relief stint. Ricky Crispo had three hits, while Frank Morris cracked two in his first major league appearance, and shortstop Paul Cassidy added a pair of safeties.

The Twins were paced by Mike Maesano, who connected for two hits, and Rick Mendez, Brian Hussey, Todd Cadagan and Jon Adams with one each. Hussey also pitched well in relief.

Cardinals 4 - Orioles 2

The Cardinals squeaked past an ever-improving Oriole squad. Brian Flanagan stroked two doubles and a single, good for two RBIs, and scored his team's other two runs. Jeff Hesenius, Rick Crispo, Matt Blake and Todd Harris collected the other Redbird hits. Andy Fortuna allowed two runs in three frames and Todd Harris picked up the win with an outstanding relief effort, allowing no hits.

Mike Trombly slapped two hits for the Orioles while Ken Oppenheim and Mike Shepard had one each. Oppenheim and Christopher Hoffman hurled three stoic stanzas apiece.

Cardinals 9 - White Sox 2

Seven Cardinal runs in the final two innings broke open a tight contest. Ed Fortuna of the White Sox shut down the Cards early and Brian Flanagan returned the favor. But Rick Croispo broke things open with a pair of doubles and a sacrifice fly in the later frames. Todd Harris, Matt Blake and Jim Stratton had set the table with timely hits. Justin Connors cracked a key Cardinal rope and shortstop Paul Cassidy chipped in two fielding gems.

Tom Clarke and Ed Fortuna rapped two hits each for the White Sox. First baseman Jon Ciruso played an outstanding defensive game.

Pirates 8 - Indians 4

The Pirates tallied seven runs in the second inning, the key blow a bases loaded Alex Marshall double. Marshall also starred on the mound, striking out seven in three innings. Righty Matt Marvin relieved and fanned eight. Toby Guzowski slammed two singles and a double, Chris Corcoran lined three safeties, Steve Hosmer added two hits and Ben Weiner chipped in one.

Mike Maguire chucked a pair of scoreless frames for the Indians. Gregory LeBreck was equally effective in a two-inning stint. Joe Shea tripled in two runs while Nate Roberts, Jeff Pithier and Mike Costello each hit safely once.

Braves 5 - White Sox 4

The Braves overcame a 4-0 fifth-inning deficit. Nikki Bilwakesh, Greg Bennett, Hugh Quattlebaum and Matt Wolcott were the offensive catalysts in a four-run fifth inning. The winning run scored in the sixth when Richie Enos lined a single to center, chasing home Walter Kolkowski with the running run. 10-year-old Quattlebaum picked up his first league mound victory.

Gary Clarke threw three brilliant innings for the White Sox, shutting out the Braves. Tim Foley's stole led the White Sox offensive parade, reaching base three times.

Braves 6 - Orioles 4

Matt Wolcott picked up his second win of the year, striking out 14 while scattering six hits. Hugh Quattlebaum, Dan Hansberry and Walter Kolkowski supplied the lumber.

Catcher Craig Edwards was a steady influence behind the plate.

Cardinals

Christopher Hoffman laced a pair of hits for the Orioles and Mike Shepard contributed flawless relief pitching.

Cubs 8 - Mets 5

Rickey Saggese rapped a round-tripper and two singles. His homer was his third of the year, tying him with Toby Guzowski for the league lead. The Cubs got some fine pitching from John Hall and David Kelmner. Pat Walsh stroked two hits, while Kelmner, PLJ. Puffermann and Albie Giangregorio slapped one each.

Giangregorio continued his fine play behind the plate, thwarting two attempted base thefts, in his first campaign at that position.

Cardinals 5 - Pirates 0

Todd Harris tossed a gem in this first-place showdown. He struck out six, then relied on his talented defense for help. The Cardinal fielders posted their second consecutive errorless game. Shortstop Paul Cassidy and second-sacker Matt Blake were the primary rally killers.

The Cards managed just one hit off of Matt Marving. Bobby McKertich rapped it and eventually scored the game-winning run. Smart baserunning and some wild pitches accounted for the other runs.

Centerfielder Jason Caverly made a fine running stab for the Pirates and leftfielder Patrick Russo was steady.

Cardinals 4 - Indians 2

Brian Flanagan raised his record 3-0 with a four-hit, complete game effort. He walked just two, while striking out seven. Todd Harris rapped two hits while Paul Cassidy had an RBI single and a sacrifice bunt. Ricky Crispo's speed created a run. Andy Fortuna caught his first game for the Cards and performed admirably.

Gregory LeBreck and Brian Kwon paced the Indian attack. Each singled and scored a run. Phil Maguire and Robert Derba also hit safely. LeBreck surrendered just three hits while walking four.

Pirates 5 - Braves 4

Matt Marvin raced home with the winning run in the seventh inning. He walked to open the inning, was sacrificed to second by Louis Capobianco and went to third on a passed ball. Patrick Russo walked with two out, then executed a delayed steal. Marvin scored before Russo could be tagged out. Toby Guzowski pitched three innings of scoreless relief and was credited with the win.

The world's largest mushroom farm is in Pennsylvania. It produces about 7,000 tons of mushrooms a year.

He also owns a basic computer. It is unique because it is voice activated.

Advanced technology has also enabled Doran to breathe and talk on his own.

Doran explained that he lost motor movement of his arms and legs and his breathing ability due to the accident.

Fortunately, he said, his phrenic nerve, which is attached to his diaphragm, was still useful. Doctors performed a rare surgery, which allows him to breathe without an artificial ventilator.

Wires from a box on the back of his wheelchair are attached to his chest. Surgically implanted receivers in his chest send signals to his phrenic nerve, which in turn activate his diaphragm. "It (machine) causes my diaphragm to contract and allows my lungs to take in air and expell it," he said.

"It gives me a much more natural feeling of breathing and communicating than I normally would have," he said.

Before the accident, Doran was a general agent for John Hancock Insurance. Now, there are several job possibilities for Doran, but he hasn't made any career decisions. "It's not clear what I'll do at this time," he said. "I intend to keep my employment relationship with John Hancock."

"They've been terrific to me; they've supported me the whole 25 months," he said.

The accident has changed his philosophy about life, he said. "It's opened my eyes to a world of (disabled) people I'm ashamed to say I didn't know existed," Doran said.

"It's taught me about people in general and how many wonderful people there are," he said. He noted physicians, nurses and all the people in Andover who responded and supported his family.

"I could never repay (them), and I'll forever be grateful for their support," he said.

Political Seminars Scheduled

A seminar on Bay State politics and government for business leaders, entitled "Why Bad Laws Happen to Good Businesses," will be conducted by the Greater Lawrence Chamber of Commerce on Thursday, June 16, at the chamber's headquarters, 264 Essex St., Lawrence, from 8 a.m. to noon, according to Laurence R. Smith, the chamber's executive vice president.

"Government affairs is the most important function the chamber performs, our members tell us," Smith said. "That's why we have inaugurated this program of education for our members on the ways and wiles of politics and government." Many business people don't have the time, or patience for that matter, to study the workings of our state's unique political system. To solve that problem, we've put together a brief half-day seminar which should help business leaders get a better understanding of the forces at work which shape the laws and regulations that affect their businesses," Smith explained.

The seminar will be run by Ron Mills, the chamber's manager of government affairs, who has extensive experience in political and governmental matters. "It should be both informative and entertaining," Smith said. "This isn't going to be Poli Sci 101. Instead, it will be lively and challenging. Some of the topics that will be covered include lobbying, political parties, how elections are won and lost, the impact of electoral politics on legislation and what business people can do to make sure that government—state and local—understands the problems of doing business here," he explained.

Warning

Massachusetts Executive Office of Elder Affairs Secretary Paul J. Lanzikos warned elders to beware of literature sent by an organization called the Social Security Protection Bureau. The bureau, which is not affiliated with the Federal Government, is mailing forms that request a $7 enrollment fee in return for a statement of earnings and a "social security" protection kit that includes a gold embossed social security card.

Frosh Teams Post Top Records

By Rick Harrison

Brett Hammond fired a three-hitter en route to his sixth complete-game victory, while the runs were driven across by Bob Sheehan, Matt Orlando and Hammond, as the Andover West freshman baseball team concluded its 1988 season with a 3-1 victory over visiting St. John's Prep.

The triumph enabled Coach Ken Maglio's West squad to finish the year at 9-5 overall, and with Doherty already closing at 13-2 it gave the two Andover frosh teams an excellent combined record of 22-7.

Hammond, who crafted a 6-0 record this spring, struck out five SJP batters, walked only one and the run against him was unearned.

AW managed six hits with Joe Iarrobino's 2-for-4 leading the way.

Hammond and Sheehan contributed RBI singles, while Mark Hopkinson and Cheatham Harish also had basehits.

Matt Orlando drew a pair of walks, one of which forced home a run, and Iarrobino stole two bases.

Brendan Sharkey of Andover, now attending St. John's Prep, contributed a strong defensive game at catcher for the visitors.

Sharkey, who played on the same Pony League summer team with Hammond, Iarrobino and Sheehan last year, was held hitless by his former batterymate (Hammond).

Final West Stats

Bryan Smith, unable to play in the season finale after suffering a right shoulder injury sliding into home plate the previous game against Doherty, led the West regulars in batting this spring with a hefty .417 average (15-for-36).

Following in order were Joe Iarrobino at .353, Bob Sheehan .342, Brett Hammond .326 and Joe Marinaro .281.

Hitting .333 in limited service were Brad Cronin and Kevin Murphy, while Craig DerAnian finished at .308.

Iarrobino was the team leader in at-bats with 51, runs scored (20), hits (18) and stolen bases (18).

Matt Orlando and Bob Sheehan shared the RBI leadership with 16 apiece, Marinaro led in walks (13) and Orlando was tops in sacrifice hits with four.

Trailing Iarrobino in official at-bats were Hammond (46) and catcher Garrett Ferris (44), while Sheehan (12), Marinaro (12) and Orlando (11) were runners-up in runs scored.

Smith and Hammond had 15 hits each and Sheehan 13, Smith 13 RBI, Iarrobino 11 and Hammond 10.

Hammond stole 14 bases and Orlando 10, Orlando drew 10 walks and Sheehan had three sacrifices.

Hammond was the top hurler in virtually every category, posting the 6-0 record with a superb 1.11 earned run average.

The standout righthander pitched 44.1 innings, yielding 23 hits, whiffing 51, walking 15 and permitting just seven earned runs.

Joe Marinaro, Kevin Murphy and left-hander Peter Arthur chalked up the other victories, while Mark Hopkinson and Marinaro registered one save apiece.

Marinaro allowed 20 hits and fanned 22 in 24.1 innings, posting a 1.44 ERA, while Arthur had a 3.73 earned run average.

Final Doherty Stats

Coach Ted Boudreau's Doherty crew had six batters hit .400 or better.

F.J. Johnson, who saw action in approximately half the games, finished with the top average of .444.

Dave Blank, who led the team in several offensive categories and was the ace pitcher, hit .438 as did Mike Henry.

Don Fraser (.417), Scott Bernard (.412) and Jim Landry (.400) completed the list of top batters, while Jeff Hurley finished at .386 and Sean Darwin at .325.

Rich Radulski hit .333 but made just three official plate appearances.

Blank was tops in at-bats (48), hits (21) and shared the lead in homeruns with Hurley (2). His hit total came just two shy of the all-time Doherty record of 23 established two decades ago.

Hurley was team-high in runs scored (21) and triples (2), Landry in RBI (17), Bernard in walks (12).

If you were intent on buying a home a few years ago but didn't financially qualify for a loan, don't assume that your chances of becoming a homeowner are over. There are several variables that can change so that you may now qualify for that loan. Your income could have risen (which it probably has); interest rates could have dropped (which they did); or money could become more available (which it has).

With these elements in place, a window of opportunity has opened to many buyers who previously could not qualify for a mortgage. How long will this window remain open? We hope for a long time, but predicting interest rates is risky business.

Owning your own home is the best investment you can make for the foreseeable future. You may have been turned down when rates were higher - a lot of people were. However, your chances of getting financing are much improved in today's market. Buy now and join the parade. If you wait, you gamble.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 PUNCHARD AVE., ANDOVER. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

Hunt Agency Ranked Tops

Century 21 the Hunt Agency, Inc. of North Andover was recently honored as Century 21's number 1 producing office in the Merrimack Valley and ranked number four out of the more than 500 offices in New England for the first quarter of 1988.

If there's been a slowdown in the local real estate market, it hasn't affected The Hunt Agency as they experienced their fifth straight record quarter and captured the coveted Pacesetter Award for fourth quarter in a row. They were ranked the top office in the North District for closed units and units under agreement which bodes well for the second quarter. Dolores Farrell received individual honors as the only Pacesetter Award winner in the Merrimack Valley area for the quarter.

One of the secrets of their success is their appeal to a very broad market range of buyers. They offer a wide variety of single family homes, townhouses, raw land and investment properties in all price ranges with a heavy emphasis on new construction. The Hunt Agency has consistently maintained an inventory of between 100 to 200 properties which are competitively priced and turn over quickly. A massive advertising budget and regular open houses insure the maximum exposure. The Hunt Agency actively encourages broker cooperation from other offices.

The Hunt Agency also benefits from its participation in the highly successful Century 21 VIP referral system, along with more than 6,500 offices nationwide. Century 21 The Hunt Agency is honored to be the only designated corporate relocation office in the Merrimack Valley.

Although they are proud of their number one ranking, The Hunt Agency wants to be remembered first for their high professional and ethical standards.

Lifestyles of the Rich and Famous

Situated on 100 acres of unspoiled woodland, the residences at Bartlett's Reach slope peacefully down to the banks of the Merrimack River. Choose from several award-winning townhouse and loft designs, each with the elegance, space and style that makes Bartlett's Reach one of the best values north of Boston. In the heart of Bartlett's Reach, you'll find a recreational complex complete with clubhouse and fitness center, outdoor swimming pool and two illuminated tennis courts. The condominiums at Bartlett's Reach also feature a private 1 1/2 acre waterfront park along the shores of the Merrimack. Bartlett's Reach is conveniently located near the junctions of routes 495, 95 and 110, approximately 40 miles north of Boston.

REAL ESTATE GUIDELINES

KITCHEN RENOVATIONS

You've found an almost perfect house. It has the right number of bedrooms and baths, a wonderful family room, and a great back yard. Your pulse rate increases as you imagine your furniture in the living room, your "excess" neatly stored in the huge attic, and your tulip bulbs blooming in the garden. The kitchen, however, looks like the original, and the house was built long before the invention of modern conveniences like dishwashers, disposals, frost-free refrigerators or microwaves. It's also ugly!

If you really love a house with an awful kitchen, consider a renovation. You might consult a contractor for expert advice during the structural contingency period. Redoing a kitchen can be a major undertaking, especially if you decide to move walls around or expand onto a back porch. It can, however, be done in a relatively short time for a small fraction of the overall cost of the house if you simply place new appliances, cabinets, and flooring into the existing space. Also, kitchen improvements are considered to be excellent investments that are easily recovered when it's time to resell the home.

If you are considering a move, contact the professionals at Realty USA Schruender Real Estate. Call us at 685-5000 or stop by our offices at 73 Chickering Road, North Andover.

Duck Xing

8-Year-Old's Letter Prompts Signs To Protect Abbot's Pond Creatures

By Frank Messina

Dear town of Andover:

I am eight years old.

I am concerned of the ducks and geese. They are being kill(ed) one by one. What can we do for the ducks and geese at Rose Glen? Could you put up a sign like GO SLOW or DUCK WATCH. You have some good ideas too.

I AM DEPENDING ON YOU.

Thank you,
from Jennifer Blongiewicz
5 Midland Circle

Buried amongst a stack of children's books in the Blongiewicz's attractive, two-story home on Midland is the 1941 classic novel Make Way For Ducklings.

Was it Robert McCloskey's tale of Mr. and Mrs. Mallard and family's trek across crowded Boston streets to the Boston Public Gardens, a tale that somewhat parallels the plight of the ducks and geese being crowded by the Abbot's Pond condominium development, that inspired eight-year-old Jennifer Blongiewicz to write town hall?

Nope.

Although she remembers reading

Ducklings, the book wasn't what came to mind when the Sanborn Elementary School second-grade student would visit the pond.

"I don't have to think about it (the book)," said Jennifer, a pretty, long-haired blonde with an eight-year-old's huge, slightly gap-toothed smile. "I can see it."

What Jennifer sees when her mom takes her and her brother to the park—about a five-minute walk from their house—are ducks and geese setting up camp in the middle of Argilla Road. She has watched the waterfowl hold their ground as cars and trucks zipped around a curve and down a slight incline before coming to the intersection of Argilla and Andover Street. Sometimes the vehicles don't stop in time. Sometimes the ducks and geese don't move out of the way.

What was once a large, open field of several acres now holds the wooden skeletons of 45 condominiums as the Abbot's Pond project nears completion. The pond and the creatures that live there occupy a small plot of land on the site under an agreement negotiated between the developer, Picwel Builders, and the town Zoning Board of Appeals.

The problem, Jennifer explains, is that the ducks and geese now have limited nesting space and are making the dangerous trek over Argilla more often to lay their eggs in the open fields across the street.

But condominium development, zoning regulations and land-use issues are far beyond a child's ken. And, as Nancy Jeton, town planner, points out, ducks have been running afoul of Argilla traffic long before the housing project was conceived.

No, the important issue to this eight-year-old mind is that "the ducks are being killed," she says. And one day—"without any prompting from us, it was all her idea," added Jennifer's mother, Jeanne Blongiewicz—the elementary school student appealed to town hall for help.

After spending several days composing the words—"It was hard, I had to copy it over a lot"—the letter went out.

Jennifer found a champion in Gerald Silverman, a member of the Board of Selectmen.

"I always respond much more to the type of request that doesn't come from a personal interest like someone complaining about traffic on their street," said Silverman. "She (Jennifer) wrote about something that was beyond herself; she had environmental concerns, concerns about the wildlife."

At a May 23 board meeting, Silverman called for the installation of signs to alert oncoming vehicles and directed Town Manager Ken Mahony to oversee their placement. And over citizen John Doyle stood up at the meeting and called for stronger measures to protect the waterfowl; however, neither Doyle or town officials had a better idea.

The upshot was, as Silverman promised in a thank-you letter recently received by Jennifer, the signs, bearing the warning "duck crossing" will be going up soon.

It was a simple, one-page, handwritten message, but to Jennifer, it meant that someone was listening who was also concerned about the ducks. "I was so excited, I was jumping up and down," she said.

So now, the ducks will be at least a little safer, and a young girl has learned that sometimes it pays to speak up.

"I might send a letter back to him (Silverman)," said Jennifer. "I think I'd say, 'Get the signs up soon' and so on and so on."
